The Gleeson Zine Library Submission Form

The Gleeson Zine Library is part of the University of San Francisco's Gleeson Library collection. The University of San Francisco is a private Jesuit university with a mission rooted in social justice. The Gleeson Zine Library collects and loans print medium zines on a variety of topics with some emphasis on social justice and critical theory.

Information about the zines in our collection are entered into our catalog: http://ignacio.usfca.edu/. The catalog can be browsed online by anyone. Access to the Gleeson Library is limited to USF students, staff and faculty. Anyone inside the library can browse and read the zines in our collection. The zines can be checked out to any member of the USF community with borrowing privileges. We may also photograph the cover material for browsing aids and promotion.

The Gleeson Zine Library recognizes the sometimes personal nature of zine creation and distribution. We respect the creator/publisher's potential concerns about access to their work. Therefore, we ask you to consider who we are, how we share information about our zines, and how we provide access to our zines. We ask that you acknowledge your consent when submitting your work to the Gleeson Zine Library.

I consent to the inclusion of my zine in the Gleeson Zine Library.
